Find the good in business

The world is changing

Customers, investors and employees now expect organisations to deliver profit and purpose.

- 76% of leaders expect their organisation's investment in social value initiatives to rise over the next 12 months¹.
- 94% of CFOs believe social will be an important priority in 2030².
- Over 60% base their purchasing behaviours on sustainability and ethical criteria, and this is growing by 10% each year³.

Organisations have the power to generate social value, not just profit.

Driving social performance is an opportunity to innovate, get a competitive advantage and create long-term value.

Social performance covers all the impacts of your business on people – staff, suppliers, customers, communities.
